★ Committee Spotlight ★

This month JWL would like to recognize the Public Relations & Member Engagement Committee for keeping members up-to-date on all the great things JWL is doing while promoting our efforts within the community.

“This year we have successfully launched a blog, monthly newsletter, organized two member socials, and are actively engaging our members and the community through social media,” said Carson Cataliotti, committee chair. The committee is also dedicated to establishing relationships with partners and sponsors, and ensuring JWL provides a fulfilling experience for its’ members. “Being a part of the committee has allowed me to make even greater contributions to the league and community,” said Kelsey Stevens, committee member. “I am proud to be a part of the accomplishments we have reached in such a short time.”

A huge thanks to the Public Relations & Member Engagement Committee and all of our committees for your hard work and dedication this year!
